Foreword from our Chair

Carl Les

Chair of Trustee Board

Firstly, my thanks as always to my fellow trustee board members. The work they put in is often underappreciated, and charities could not function without them. My thanks also to our hardworking volunteers and staff, who have, as always, performed minor miracles on a daily basis to make our community a better place to live.

A distinct pattern over this last year has been the difficulties faced by many in the charity sector. Well-established big names from the charitable world have announced major job losses and restructures. We are also operating in a time of economic and political uncertainty, with rapid funding and structural change. On a positive note, we are well prepared for this storm, with good levels of reserves, a strong business plan, a mixed funding portfolio, and a strong leadership and governance team.

On the ground, we are seeing demand not abating. We are moving into a phase of acceptance that demand will continue at this higher level of need, and that our community will continue to require higher levels of support. In addition, we are recognising the limitations of our previous structures and the need to embrace new partnerships. This year, we have started discussions with local businesses, local councillors, and new consortiums covering both much larger and much smaller areas, to ensure we have a wide range of knowledge and that we can deliver services face-to-face, as our communities want them.

Many organisations can talk the talk but do not actually engage with people or provide any real solutions or help. We are proud to say that, as well as being a disability-led organisation, we are also one of the most representative organisations in the county, both in those who volunteer for us and in those we employ. For example, 1 in 9 of our workforce is not from a White British heritage. Also, 45% of our staff have a long-term health condition or disability.

Over the last year, we have risen to the challenge to see more people, bring more funding into the county, solve more problems, and further increase residents' incomes. This is only possible with the assistance of our generous funders, with North Yorkshire Council, Access to Justice, and the British Gas Energy Trust among the many you will find listed in this report.

We are a combination of seven Citizens Advice services and one Law Centre, and running all of them costs all the funding provided, and more.

We are more than grateful to our funders and thank them for their faith in, and support of, our communities.

Chief Executive Officer's report

Carol Shreeve CEO

Over the past two years, we have created new posts called Advice Trainees, revamped our volunteer recruitment and training programme, and applied for solicitor trainee funded programmes. I am glad to say that all these have gradually improved our performance in these areas and are playing their part in helping us meet demand. For example, since last year volunteer recruitment has increased by 53%, (86 to 132 volunteers).

We are also now seeing our brilliant Advice Trainees go on to other roles, both within our own organisation and in other advice and statutory organisations across North Yorkshire. We currently have two trainee solicitors, with funding for a third next year in the pipeline, we hope.

This is particularly important for North Yorkshire, where we need to show young people that well-paying jobs can be found locally and that fulfilling lives can be lived here.

We are, of course, grappling with increasing demand alongside the threats we are seeing to funding, but we remain committed to delivering advice and support through various channels and are determined to keep our presence in our local communities.

We will use new technologies while recognising the reality of life for most individuals living in North Yorkshire. We will prioritise those most in need while not ignoring the silent majority. We will continue to work towards making rights and justice accessible to all.

Statement of Internal Control

The trustee board of North Yorkshire Citizens Advice & Law Centre oversees the information security of all personal information of our clients, staff, funders, and strategic partners that is processed. Treasurer's report

Robert Pringle Treasurer

I would like to thank all the organisations and people who provide funds to North Yorkshire Citizens Advice & Law Centre which allows the delivery of our projects and services to an ever increasing number of clients. This annual report shows the wide range of projects we are delivering and the increasing number of different funders we rely on.

Income and expenditure figures are shown in the table below. Income increased by 9.6% which is a result of the leadership team's successful efforts to extend existing projects where this is possible and also obtain funding from new sources. We have put significant effort into applying to a wide range of organisations for project funding, and this has enabled us to maintain existing funding streams as well as successfully obtain funds for new projects during the year. Expenditure increased by 12.8% during 2024-25 as new staff were taken on to deliver new and extended projects.

This continuing success in obtaining additional funds for new and existing projects demonstrates that funders recognise the importance of the work we currently do and the need to fund new projects to meet emerging needs.

The Finance team has successfully dealt with new projects starting and the resulting complications in accounting and has ensured that the Trustee Board was fully briefed on the finances of the organisation throughout the year.

Carol has highlighted in her CEO's report the increasing demand for our services; we can continue to move forward to meet these challenges on a solid financial footing.

	Year end 31/03/24 (£)	Year end 31/03/25 (£)	Increase (%)
Income	£3,764,603	£4,126,458	9.6%
Expenditure	£3,630,382	£4,096,551	12.8%

Our value to society

North Yorkshire Citizens Advice & Law Centre helps thousands of people every year. This provides us with unique insight into the challenges our clients face.

We are not only helping people through difficult situations, but also identifying and tackling the underlying causes of their problems.

The people we help, our funders and the organisations we work with see the value we deliver and the impact we are making. It is impossible to put a financial value on everything we do – but where we can, we have. We have used a Treasury-approved model to provide the figures detailed below.

From our robust management information, we have also separately considered the financial benefits to the people we help.

For every £1 invested in our service in 2024/25, we generated:

£22.96

in public value

Wider economic and social benefits.
Improvements in participation and productivity for Clients and volunteers.

£18.06

in value to the people we help

Income gained through benefits, debts written off, and consumer problems solved.

£3.25

in fiscal value

Reduction in health service demand, LA homelessness service, and out-of-work benefits for clients and volunteers.

Financial value of our volunteers in 2024/25

£960,662

estimated worth of donated hours of our 132* volunteers.

How we helped Donna

Name has been changed for anonymity.

Donna attended an outreach session to seek information on benefits and assistance with household expenses.

Donna had recently become a full-time carer and had submitted a claim for Universal Credit but she was uncertain about eligibility for additional benefits as she was struggling to manage her household bills.

Donna was referred to the Welfare Benefits and Energy Advice teams.

The Welfare Benefits Adviser carried out a full benefits check, which showed that Donna was eligible for a reduction in her Council Tax. The Welfare Benefits Adviser supported Donna with the application process.

The Energy Adviser arranged for an emergency payment through the Household Support Fund to cover her winter heating needs.

Donna subsequently revisited the outreach to say that the Council Tax reduction and support towards her energy costs had improved her ability to manage her household bills.

How we helped Kate

Name has been changed for anonymity.

Kate lived in social housing with her partner and child. The household had accumulated significant rent arrears and other debts due to inability to work stemming from health issues.

Their application for PIP was denied, and they sought assistance less than a week before a scheduled court hearing.

Kate was referred to the Housing Advice and Debt Advice Teams.

The Housing Adviser provided advice and assistance prior to the court date, and representations were made to the court. Without early intervention, there was a possibility that an outright possession order could have been issued, potentially resulting in the loss of accommodation. Instead, a suspended possession order was arranged, allowing Kate to maintain her residence and reduce her arrears through manageable payments.

With the immediate risk to their housing addressed, the Debt Adviser supported Kate with outstanding debts.

Following this process, Kate and her family remained in their home and received further guidance on debt management and income maximisation to help prevent future financial difficulties.

How we helped Joe

Name has been changed for anonymity

Joe submitted an online request for assistance with topping up his Energy meters.

Joe lived alone in social housing and was managing long-term health conditions. Joe relied on Universal Credit, alongside support for council tax costs.

Joe was referred to the Energy Advice and Welfare Benefit teams.

The Welfare Benefits Adviser conducted a thorough review of Joe's benefit entitlements and identified that claims for Limited Capability for Work Related Activity (LCWRA) and Personal Independence Payment (PIP) were missing from his record. Joe received guidance on initiating claims for both, and that we can provide support in completing the necessary forms if he needed it.

Joe also had a shortfall in his rent payments due to under-occupancy, resulting in a personal contribution towards his housing costs. The adviser recommended that Joe visit North Yorkshire Council's website to apply for a Discretionary Housing Payment.

The Energy Adviser provided tailored information and practical strategies to help reduce Joe's energy consumption, and provide him with emergency fuel vouchers through the Household Support Fund.

Our Governance

North Yorkshire Citizens Advice & Law Centre is governed by a Board of Trustees who are all volunteers for the charity.

The trustees have ultimate responsibility for the charity’s vision, values, ethos, and strategy as well as for the overall performance.

They ensure NYCALC complies with all legal requirements and has the highest possible standards of governance. In addition to the Full Board meeting held four times a year, Trustees attend quarterly sub-committees and working groups which report to the board

Working groups:

- Equity, diversity, and inclusion
- Health and Safety
- Research and Campaigns

Sub-committees:

- Strategic
- Finance and Funding
- Law Centre

Trustees also attend the annual Trustees Awayday, an informal day which includes looking at full service strategy.

The Chief Executive Officer is responsible for leading the management team which includes the Deputy CEO, Head of Quality, Head of Finance and Director of Operations who are responsible for the quality of advice and operational activities for the charity.
